OUR BRANDS

sesderma[®]

listening to your skin

Born in Spain in 1898, Sesderma is a pioneering brand in the field of dermo-cosmetic innovation. In 2010, Sesderma revolutionized the field of skincare by introducing nanotechnology into its formulas. Through the use of nanometric liposomes, Sesderma is able to deliver skincare actives to the deeper layers of skin; the result, of course, is optimal tolerance and maximum effectiveness.

Ogé

The Oge Darma System Is Revolutionary Because It Not Only Deals With Ihe Surface Layer But Reaches Deep Down To The Level To Stimulate And Promote Skin Oge Derma System Restoration, Slowing The Aging Process Of Your Skin. Og6 Derma System Is Designed For Optimal Results In Cleating And Preventing Acne, Wrinkles, Dark Spots, Discoloration, Sun Damage, Tine Lines, And Age Spots.

Eucapil® is a new cosmetic product for topical use developed by Biophysica, Inc. of San Diego, California.

When applied to the scalp, EUCAPIL® assists in counteracting the degenerative changes in hair follicles, which ultimately cause hair loss and thinning of the hair stem.

EUCAPIL® has been shown to induce a substantial reduction or cessation of hair loss.

Upon longer use, an increase in average hair diameter giving the impression of greater scalp hair fullness may be seen.

Eucapil™

Mediderma is the division of professional products and treatments that belong to the Sesderma Group, founded by Dr. Gabriel Serrano in 1993. His vocation as a dermatologist has always been to solve skin problems through innovation and proximity to the patient. That is why at Mediderma we support doctors and health professionals by offering them global solutions for their patients' skincare.

Our products and professional treatments cover all areas of dermatocosmetics, aesthetic medicine and dermatology, responding to all the needs of people's skin. We focus our efforts and dedication to the research, development and manufacture of products for medical use, specializing in R&D&I and nanotechnology.

professional care

At its core, FACTORFIVE humanizes skincare. Backed by years of scientific research, our award-winning skincare company seeks to redefine how we, as a society, look at aging. Powered by ethically derived human stem cells, our skincare works harmoniously with your own skin to replenish growth factors that naturally deplete as we age. Rather than hype, FACTORFIVE relies on innovation.

Your skin cells are constantly turning over and undergoing repair. This remodeling, correcting, and regenerating requires multiple cellular processes to work. That's where FACTORFIVE comes in. Our scientists carefully culture human stem cells and then capture their potent factors - all in an effort to help your skin replace and boost the factors that decrease with age, helping prevent and fight the visible signs of aging.
